

I do not want to start being bothered again during my dinner to answer questions to people I do not even want to talk to. Please do not take away this right from the people who own the phones.